LAND MANAGEMENT ADDRESSED IN PRIORITY 3

Specific objective 3.3: To improve environmental management of functional urban areas to make them more liveable places

Example of actions supported:

Strengthening the capacity for environmental planning and management at the level of functional urban areas

Strategies/tools to manage environmental quality and tackle natural and man-made risks in functional urban areas

Integrated strategies, policies and tools to reduce land-use conflicts in functional urban areas

Integrated strategies and pilot applications for the rehabilitation and reactivation of brownfield sites

Concepts and environmental pilot applications to support the development towards smart cities

On-going cooperation on land management in the Interreg CENTRAL EUROPE Programme - project examples:

TOWARD A REGIONAL APPROACH TO LAND USE

While land use is generally regulated on a local level, protecting the environment requires addressing land issues in broader regions. LUMAT brings together environmental agencies, researchers, and city and regional authorities. They cooperate to help prevent undesired spatial patterns of urban sprawl and land degradation in seven central European regions. The project will use its international knowledge base to develop sustainable, regional land management strategies.

BETTER MANAGEMENT OF URBAN GREEN SPACES

Urban parks and gardens are a blessing, but if there is no common agreement on their use and care, they can become a burden. The UGB project seeks to develop more inclusive approaches for managing green spaces that provide us with fresh air. By involving a broader group of stakeholders, UGB develops more integrated and effective means for managing green belts with the application of methods of participatory planning, multi-level governance and geo-information systems.

REGENERATING POLLUTED BROWNFIELD SITES

With an estimated three million sites affected by pollution, Europe faces real challenges in improving brownfield areas. GreenerSites brings together an international partnership to develop nine regional action plans for cleaning up and regenerating unused or underused industrial areas. The project will also provide a common tool for brownfield regeneration and implement 11 pilot actions to test sustainable and innovative solutions.
