

How to tackle groundwater contamination
at the middle scale of functional urban areas?

AMIIGA FINAL CONFERENCE

Poland | City of Jaworzno | 24th - 25th October, 2019

About

The Final Conference of the AMIIGA project - Integrated Approach to Management of Groundwater quality In functional urban Areas, realized within Interreg Central Europe Programme, will be an opportunity to present a three-year project results and discuss the current issues connected with groundwater management and protection.

For whom

Everyone interested in the project and its results and representatives of local, regional and national public authorities, institutions and authorities responsible for groundwater and surface water management and for environmental management and monitoring, entrepreneurs dealing with groundwater and directly related to problem of groundwater contamination, hydrogeologists, hydrologists, people of science and students are kindly invited to join the Conference.

Language

Polish and English. Organizers will provide simultaneous translation.

Date

AMIIGA Final Conference will take place in Jaworzno (Poland) on 24-25th of October, 2019. Framework agenda of the Conference is available in separate file.

Registration

Registration will be conducted from September, 2019. Information about availability of registration will be published within the second announcement of the AMIIGA Final Conference planned for the end of August, 2019. However, number of places will be limited and the order of application will be decisive.

Conference fee

No conference fee will be required.

Contact

Justyna Moycho-Jędrós, Marcin Tosza, Department of Environmental Protection in the Municipal Office in Jaworzno

E-mail: amiiga@um.jaworzno.pl

Phone: +48 32 61 81 773

GROUNDWATER. OUR COMMON RESPONSIBILITY