Its inhabitants, and especially young people, are well aware of the Saint Martin heritage value, they care and preserve the cult of Saint Martin and are proud that this heritage is internationally recognised. At the same time, the cult of Saint Martin is a cohesive factor of the community whose members are engaged in cultural, social and voluntary work helping those in need.</td>

It is further developed in several priorities:

1. To be internationally recognised Saint Martin-related heritage tourism destination in Croatia and in Europe
2. To draw interest of Dugo Selo’s inhabitants in celebrating the cult of Saint Martin, make them proud of it and aware of its value
3. To engage Dugo Selo’s inhabitants in cultural, social and voluntary work supporting those in need

Additionally, several activities/projects have been detected as priority actions:

1. to reconstruct church of St. Martin for cultural events and for sacral purposes
2. to set up the educational path from the centre of Dugo Selo till the top of the hill of St. Martin
3. to build the visitor centre/museum with all art heritage of St. Martin already existing in Dugo Selo (that would be situated in traditional wooden house on Martin Breg)

BEST PRACTICE IN DUGO SELO

Intangible cultural heritage of Saint Martin are manifestations such as „Saint Martin days in Dugo Selo“, which is celebrated in sacral and spiritual way in the church (Holy Mass) and in the traditional way in the organization of the City of Dugo Selo in the capacity of the organizer and cultural institutions (Folklore society, local actors, local music school, local singers and dancers, primary and secondary schools, local association of wine makers).

Our first meeting of the local stakeholder platform for NewPilgrimAge project resulted in new ideas for events and ways to celebrate Saint Martin’s day (for example Saint Martin parade, international sacral concerts, Martin souvenir house etc.)

SAINT MARTIN’S PARADE

This year, we will for the first time have „Saint Martin’s parade“ with the carriage and Saint Martin (actor) who will play the historical role of Saint Martin (during the parade he will meet poor people, and people with special needs, and sick man and help them). We will try to promote values related to Saint Martin such as solidarity, hospitality, friendship to our children and young people.
After the parade, we will all together have Martin's lunch in a tent in the town centre (lunch will be organized by the City of Dugo Selo for all the participants of Martin's parade and all others citizens and visitors of Dugo Selo). This is an educational parade primarily for kids (pupils) from primary and secondary schools but also for all citizens and visitors of our town.

BAPTISM OF WINE

Traditional way of celebrating „Saint Martin’s day“ in Dugo Selo is to baptize the wine in a traditional ceremony which includes folklore society of Dugo Selo and bishop Saint Martin (who baptizes the wine). Ceremony is with music and traditional dance. Bishop Martin is an actor who baptizes wine and celebrate wine as a biggest value in funny way (this is against the church, and church is against of such a celebration of Saint Martin's day).

After baptizing wine, we have wine evening (tasting and drinking all kinds of wines, with food – mostly sausages) and concert of popular music.
