Formation of study clusters marks the second milestone of the MECOG-CE project

The MECOG-CE project partners from across Central Europe (CE) met in Stuttgart on 22-23 February. The consortium formed study clusters and discussed possible pilot actions as part of a collaborative work. The main objective of these clusters is to share the expertise in implementing, managing, and transferring best practices and tools derived from a comprehensive analysis of project partners' metropolitan areas. The Common Metropolitan Vision, an advocacy document for metropolitan areas (MAs), was finalized.

Regional stakeholders involved in the process of the selecting best practices

Project partners presented the examples of good practices in metropolitan cooperation and governance in Central Europe to experts in the field of urban and metropolitan planning and development during regional stakeholders' meetings held by every partner metropolitan area (MA) in December 2023 and January 2024.

Within each meeting, participants together prioritized 5 tools and best practices which have the potential for transferability to their metropolitan areas. These meetings were essential for forming study clusters during the recent transnational meeting in Stuttgart. Within these clusters the most desirable tools and best practices will be examined now.

We are excited to present our MECOG-CE project via two STORYMAPS!

During the Work package 1, two storymaps were created.

The first one is related to the introduction of the project itself. It presents all the key facts about the project and our partners. You can check it out now here.

The second storymap presents the outcomes of analysis of the governance systems and the best practices/tools identified in partners' metropolitan areas. It is available on this link.

The aim for creating the storymaps was to present the project and gathered analytical data in the well visualised form.

We hope you like them.
